Online Training Programme

August 11 – 14, 2020

Time: 11:00 – 13:30 hrs

Management of Farmer Producer Organizations

Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs) as member-centered institutions for the small and marginalized farmers is being promoted by a large number of organizations in the country. FPOs being institutions owned and managed by the farmers themselves should have in place systems that they are able to implement, monitor and reap the benefits of. Managing an FPO is very crucial for Board of Directors. It gives them an understanding of all the resources required to run an FPO and the need to plan for these resources. The resources include manpower, material and money.

Moreover, as FPOs are organizations mandated to engage in financial and commodity related transactions, an effective system of business planning in place can guide the FPO members to build a clear path towards their larger goals.

Objectives

- To understand and plan various resources to run the FPO effectively
- To develop a conceptual understanding and appreciate the need for a viable business plan at FPO
